

SHEPPARD IS NOW SENATOR

JOINT SESSION OF LEGISLATURE RATIFIES VOTE CAST TUESDAY.

ADJOURNMENT TALK LIVELY

Resolutions To Be Presented for Conclusion March 14—Question Probable Open Argument.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 29.—Morris Sheppard formally accepted from the legislature today his election as United States senator from Texas for the short term, expiring March 4, and for the long term, expiring March 4, 1919. He received a hearty greeting from the floor of the house and from the well-filled galleries when he delivered himself of his speech of acceptance.

Both branches of the legislature met in joint session. The ballots cast in each body Tuesday were proven up by the records of those respective bodies. Speaker Terrell of the house declared Mr. Sheppard duly elected for both terms. As he was escorted to the speaker's stand by a committee consisting of Representatives Robbins, Wagstaff, Byrne, Allison and Hellig of the house and Senators Vaughan, Townsend and Lattimore he was liberally applauded by his colleagues, friends, and many others who had gathered to see him reach the highest point in his political career.

Speaker Terrell presented Senator Vaughan, who will succeed Mr. Sheppard from the first congressional district. Senator Vaughan presented Mr. Sheppard as the pride of his home, his town, county, congressional district, his state—a man destined to become the pride of national democracy. For two minutes Mr. Sheppard was cheered.

Colors Are Waved.
Representative Reeves of Grayson rushed to the speaker's stand with a small American flag, which was waved over the new senator. There was a hush. University students gave nine huzzas and the tumult began anew. Later the speaker was allowed to proceed.

In his remarks he followed closely the line of his fixed address. He was loudly applauded in his remarks with reference to the House Traffic bill, uttering that the legislature should see to it that no radical changes are made in the stock and bond law did not please so well some of the representatives from the western districts who demand this above all else, even though they did support Mr. Sheppard for both terms in the senate. He was cheered in his declarations for the initiative and referendum, and the friends of this idea took on new faith.

When Mr. Sheppard concluded, a host of friends gathered about to congratulate him. In the afternoon he was again besieged with those seeking preferment from a democratic administration. Among the applicants to see him, not heretofore mentioned, was W. M. Briggs, sheriff of Tarrant county, who desired to be United States marshal from the Northern district. Sam Webb of Albany accompanied him.

Entertained at Dinner.

Mr. Sheppard was entertained with a dinner this evening at the W. F. Ramsey. The guests present besides the host and honoree were National Democratic Executive Committeemen Cato Wells, W. H. Hildesoe and John W. Baker of Lubbock, B. H. Carroll, Jr., of Houston, Representative T. M. Bartlett of Tahoma, Lynn county.

Mr. Sheppard left tonight for Texarkana. He will stop there a day and proceed to Washington in time to be sworn into the United States senate for the short term expiring March 4.

The old line of the adjournment resolution already is going the rounds. In the house it has been circulated by Representative Broughton. It will be introduced tomorrow. It provides for adjournment March 14—sixty days after convening and the exact date that the legislature goes off the $3 a day basis and onto the $2 a day basis. Tonight eighty-three members of the house, a majority of eleven, had signed it. It is expected that ninety will have signed it before its introduction, says the statement of the promoter of the plan.

Representative Humphrey announced that he will move that the resolution lie on the table subject to call. In other words, it will lay there as a sort of club over all.

Terrell Favors One Session.

Speaker Terrell of the house is somewhat out of sympathy with such a resolution. It is said. He thinks that the legislature can get through in sixty days if it will get down to work, but he would like to see it worded hard and get through in one session without necessitating a called session. He wants the general appropriation bill passed in the regular session. He says that it will be reported to the house in forty days and that there is no reason why it should not be passed in a sixty-day session, but he would legislate night and day in order to accomplish the feat of getting through in sixty days. Like many other members of the house, he thinks that the legislature should not go on record for adjournment until it determines when it can get through. He believes that the regulations of the house stopping so much oratory on bills this year, etc., are conducive to dispatch of business, and he would wind it all up at one sitting.

No side die adjournment resolution has yet reached the senate. But in view of the great aversion of members to working for less than $2 a day, it is not expected that it will be hard in the senate to get a majority to favor the sixty-day adjournment.

The Katy consolidation bill is the order of the day for consideration in

COLQUITT DENIES "HURRY CALL" IN SHEPPARD'S CASE

Austin, Jan. 29.—Governor Colquitt was called upon this afternoon in the midst of his penitentiary speech by a delegation of Sheppard's friends, who demanded that the governor sign at once Mr. Sheppard's credentials both for the long and short terms in the senate and present them to Mr. Sheppard.

The committee was notified that there was no particular hurry about this; that the credentials would be signed and forwarded to the president of the senate at Washington, as has been customary, and that Mr. Sheppard would be presented with a copy of these credentials.

Governor Colquitt's attitude with regard to the certificate caused no little comment.

Persons then began to realize that the speech of acceptance had been made by Mr. Sheppard while he was not honored with the presence of the governor in the legislative halls; further that Mr. Sheppard on his arrival in Austin did not take occasion to pay his respects to Governor Colquitt in a social call.

BAILEY BITTER AGAINST 'BOSSSES' AND 'DEMOGOGUES'

Philadelphia, Jan. 29.—Anarchy and destruction of property similar to that which occurred in the French revolution will prevail in this country unless the present trend of politics is checked, declared former Senator Jos. W. Bailey, who made the principal address at the annual banquet of group 1, Pennsylvania Bankers' association, here tonight.

The former senator said the present tendency is to teach the people to look to the government for support instead of teaching them to support the government. He deplored extravagance of national, state and municipal governments and urged his hearers to drive out both the "bosses" and the "demagogues" from power by taking a proper interest in public affairs.

"For years the presence and power of the boss determine you from that participation in politics which every good citizen ought to take," declared Mr. Bailey, "and now that the boss is disappearing the demagogue drives you from your proper place in the councils of your party and your state."

"Instead of permitting either the boss or the demagogue to drive you out of politics, it is your duty to drive them out of politics, and that would be easy enough if you take a proper interest in public affairs."

MEXICAN REBELS DRAW FIRE BY VISITING TEXAS

El Paso, Jan. 29.—Texas rangers report a large body of men, believed to be the advance guard of General Salazar's rebel army, within three miles of Juarez and drawing closer to that city. It is persistently reported that the rebels will attack at daybreak.

El Paso, Jan. 29.—Rebel forces at Guadalupe today evacuated that town and began moving along the Texas border toward Juarez. United States army officers estimate the rebel force to exceed 1000, while other groups are reported moving in from below Juarez.

The state police opened fire today on what appeared to be hundreds of rebels on the American side in the rough country along the river near Fabens, Texas, shooting two riders from their horses and capturing one of the wounded. A troop of the Thirteenth cavalry rushed to the place and its commander talked with General Antonio Rojas, who said he did not know that his men were on the American side of the border.

Federal officers declare that government troops are on the way from Chihuahua, state reinforced the weak garrison, which contains only about 500 men, two cannon and two machine guns.

HUMPHREYS MAKES CONFESSION

Goes on the Stand in the John Mimms Case and Tells the Whole Story.

Marlin, Jan. 29.—In the case of John Mimms, charged with robbery with firearms, the testimony was all in by 4 o'clock this afternoon, and arguments by the lawyers were commenced. The case will in all probability go to the jury before 12 o'clock tomorrow.

The principal witness for the state was Pat Humphreys, against whom a companion case to that against Mimms is on the docket of the court. He made a complete confession of his guilt and his testimony against Mimms was extremely damaging to that defendant.

The case against Humphreys will probably be called for trial tomorrow afternoon.

CONFERENCES AT END WITH WILSON PRESIDENT-ELECT TO DEVOTE ALL HIS TIME AS GOVERNOR.

CABINET IS STILL UNDECIDED

Mind Continues Open to Suggestions, Declares Future President—Sits With Legislature Session.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 29.—President-elect Wilson announced tonight that his conferences with prominent democrats generally about "men and policies," which have been in progress ever since he returned from Bermuda, now were at an end. Henceforth "until March 4 he will devote practically his entire time to his duties as governor of New Jersey."

The president-elect said he did not plan to see any members of congress between now and the end of his term as governor, but that, of course, he would receive those who sought him on questions that might come up in the interval.

The governor's statement prompted the inquiry as to whether he had made up his mind on the personnel of his cabinet.

"Of course, there are no fixtures yet," he said, "I'm still trying to keep my mind open."

Asked if cabinet suggestions were still pouring in, he replied:

"They are not pouring in; they are just drizzling now."

Incidentally Mr. Wilson revealed that he was looking over the field to pick a man as secretary of the proposed department of labor.

Sits With Legislature.

"Everybody seems to be agreed that the bill now pending before congress creating a department of labor will pass," said the governor. For the first time in the history of the state, the governor sat today with the legislature.

Mr. Wilson watched the legislature elect William Hughes as United States senator.

"I never saw a United States senator elected before," he said afterward. He extended his congratulations in person to Senator-elect Hughes and sent the following telegram to another friend, Willard Saulsbury, who was elected United States senator from Delaware:

"My heartiest congratulations. I am delighted that we are to be intimately associated. The outcome seems in every way admirable."

James H. Patton of the Farmers' Union of America today urged the president-elect to appoint C. S. Barrett of Georgia, president of that organization, as secretary of agriculture.

Mr. Wilson said tonight he had accepted no invitations to speak between March 4 and the following autumn.

He has had many offers of summer homes in other states. He said tonight that the lease on the house in which he lived at Princeton would expire soon and that he would give it up, but that he would retain legal residence in New Jersey.

MRS. WILSON JOINS TEXANS

Honorary Membership in Georgia Society of This State Is Accepted By Letter.

Palestine, Texas, Jan. 29.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the president-elect, herself a native of Atlanta, Ga., has accepted the invitation of the Texas-Gorgia association to become an honorary member. A letter from her social secretary, Helen Woodrow Baues, to Prof. A. S. James of Dallas, secretary of the association, says:

"Mrs. Wilson appreciates deeply the honor you pay her in wishing to make her a member of the Texas-Gorgia association. Though ordinarily, she hesitates to become an honorary member of any organization in which she knows she will never be able to take an active part, she is pleased to accept the invitation extended to her by your association and thanks you and all the other members for your kind thought of her."

Mrs. Wilson will be invited to attend the supreme convocation of the association at Dallas the first Friday of the state fair. Men and women conspicuous in the public life of Texas compose the membership of the association. Bishop Joseph S. Key of Sherman is president and Governor Colquitt is first vice president.

WOMAN ARRESTED.

Grand Jury Returns Indictment Against Widow.

Lake Providence, La., Jan. 29.—The grand jury this afternoon brought in a true bill of manslaughter against Mrs. Clarice Nelson Booth. The charges resulted from her killing her husband, Dr. James Fleet Booth, several days ago, after the two had quarreled at the breakfast table. Mrs. Booth declared her husband threatened to kill her. She was before the grand jury for an hour and a half.

Immediately following the indictment Mrs. Booth would make no statement. She was placed in jail.

McKINLEY ILLINOIS' CHOICE.

Combined Republican and Democratic Votes Elect.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 29.—Representative William McKinley of Chicago, democrat, was elected speaker of the house of the Illinois legislature on the seventy-sixth ballot at 7 o'clock tonight, breaking the four weeks' deadlock in the general assembly.

McKinley was elected by a combination of republican and democratic votes.

HOUSE COMMITTEE ACCEPTS SCHOOL OFFER FROM WACO

Austin, Jan. 29.—Waco's proposal to build, equip and donate to the state a normal school to cost $110,000 was accepted today, as far as the house committee on education is concerned.

The institution is provided for in a bill by Coffee of McLennan county and will be called the Central Texas Normal School and will be added to the quarter of similar schools already in operation.

Paddock opposed the bill in committee, but expressed no intention of submitting a minority report.

CONFER ON OIL CASES

TEXAS INDICTMENTS ARE AMONG ITEMS TAKEN UNDER CONSIDERATION.

Attorney General Will Further Digest Reports Before Making New Moves at Dallas.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The question whether there has been violation of the decree dissolving the Standard Oil company in accordance with the mandate of the supreme court was considered today at a conference at the department of justice by James A. Fowler, assistant to the attorney general; Charles R. Morrison, special assistant, and Oliver E. Pagan, an attorney of the department. Mr. Morrison and Mr. Pagan, in immediate charge of the government's oil investigation, have just returned from Pittsburgh, where they inquired into the operations of the former subsidiaries of the trust.

No conclusion was reached as to whether the situation warranted the institution of contempt proceedings. The question will be settled, however, before the expiration of Attorney General Wickersham's term of office on March 4.

The situation in Texas, where John M. Archbold, H. C. Folger Jr. and W. C. Teague of the Standard Oil company, and others have been indicted for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, also were discussed in connection with a report from United States Attorney Alford of Dallas, making suggestions and recommendations as the result of a recent supplemental investigation of the conditions.

Under orders of the attorney general, because he believed evidence was insufficient to sustain the indictments the warrants for the arrest of Messrs. Archbold, Folger and Teague have been held up. Judge Meek of Dallas a few days ago issued a new set of warrants.

Before making any further move, the attorney general will thoroughly digest Mr. Alford's report.

Alias Capiasess Sent East.

Dallas, Jan. 29.—Alias capiasess for service on John B. Archbold, Henry M. Folger Jr. and W. C. Teague were sent east Tuesday by Clerk L. C. Mayhew in compliance with the order issued by Judge Edward R. Meek of the United States district court. The alias capiasess go to United States marshals in New York and New Jersey, the papers being returnable at the May term of court to which time the cases against these three men and others indicted for alleged violation of the anti-trust laws have been passed.

Her Mission Is to Help Women Garment Workers Gain Rights

MISS JOSEPHINE CASEY.

Miss Josephine Casey of Chicago, who was the leading spirit in the women garment workers' strike in New York, has been identified with this work for several years. She first demonstrated her ability as a leader of women during the strike of the corset makers in Kalamazoo a few years ago. While carrying on the struggle there she fell into the hands of the police and spent ten days in jail rather than have her fine paid out of the strike fund. She has proved herself a tireless worker, and is noted for her sound advice to working girls. Wherever women are fighting for their rights, Miss Casey is always found in the busiest part of the firing line.

Canine Corps to Lope Before Band at Inaugural Parade

Washington, Jan. 29.—Dogs of high degree are to participate in festivities attendant upon the induction into office of President-elect Woodrow Wilson next month and will march in the inaugural parade.

"Finely bred, splendidly trained, keen nosed foxhounds are going to have a section of the parade all their own," said announcement from the inaugural committee in heralding this managerial feature of the coming pageant.

"The finest pack of hounds in all the world," is the description given of the canine group which Dr. Lester Jones, of Culpepper, Va., is assembling to lope ahead of a mounted brass band that will escort the Hunt club riders from the president-elect's native state in the civic section of the parade.

Jones declares the hounds will be so well trained that they will "stick to the middle of the road," and not scatter all over the line of march. A competent master of hounds will serve as grand marshal of the canine corps.

"FAMILY" JURY NOT POPULAR

Court Rules Husband and Wife Should Not Appear Together as Jurors.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 29.—It is not proper for husband and wife to sit on the same jury, according to a decision made today in a damage suit in the superior court. Judge Gilliam permitted counsel for the plaintiff to challenge Mrs. J. D. Dean, whose husband had been accepted as a juror. Mrs. Dean was asked if the presence of her husband on the jury would tend to influence her verdict, should she happen to disagree with her.

"It would not," answered Mrs. Dean. "I think I can decide fairly and impartially whether Mr. Dean is present or not."

The lawyers then asked Dean if Mrs. Dean would influence his decision. He was positive that he was independent in deciding a question.

"I would rather she would not be there," he added.

Mrs. Dean was excused.

HEIKE LEARNS OF DECISION

News That He Must Serve Prison Sentence Is Carried to Sick Room.

Atlantic City, N. J., Jan. 29.—Friends broke to Charles R. Heike today the news that the supreme court of the United States had affirmed the decision finding him guilty of weighing frauds in connection with American Sugar Refining company investigation and he must serve his term of eight months' imprisonment and pay a fine of $5,000. Mr. Heike has been ill with heart disease for several months and the decision was withheld from him until what seemed to be a propitious moment. His illness began soon after the death of his daughter last spring.

"Mr. Heike is in such a condition physically and mentally from the shock of his daughter's sudden death and other calamities," said a member of the family today, "that nothing can matter much to him. We doubt if favorable consideration of his case by the supreme court would have helped him."

It was reported today that a physician representing the federal court in which Mr. Heike is under bond will examine him and that if he finds the patient cannot be moved without injury to his health his arrest will be deferred.

Americans Complimented.

London, Jan. 29.—Captain Jones, acting secretary of the British Olympic association, in an interview, considers the American committee guileless in the Thorpe affair and that the Americans are behaving extremely well in a trying position.

BALKANS BREAK NEGOTIATIONS

ALLIES' REPRESENTATIVES IN LONDON TO DEPART FOR HOME SOON.

OPTIMISTS STILL HOPEFUL

Belief Exists That Turkey Will Make Fresh Proposals or Adrianople Will Surrender.

London, Jan. 29.—The peace negotiations, which reached a deadlock over the cession of Adrianople, on January 6, were finally broken today by a note which the plenipotentiaries of the Balkan allies presented to Rechad Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation.

Notwithstanding this rupture there still are optimists in the diplomatic world who hope a resumption of the war yet may be averted, either through fresh proposals that Turkey is reported to be including in the note she will deliver to the powers tomorrow, or through the fall of Adrianople before active hostilities can be begun again at the Tchatalja lines.

A majority of the Balkan delegates refuse to admit the likelihood of either contingency, believing that the life of the Young Turk government depends on the resumption of war, even though the allies were willing to postpone the conflict. They are of the opinion that the present failure of diplomacy is, at the worst, only an interlude, however, for they believe the four representatives in London to undertake the settlement anew.

Rechad Pasha, after receiving the note, said:

"Consequences may be of the gravest nature. The responsibility lies not alone with the allies, but with the powers, who encouraged the Balkan states and have shown no fairness to ward Turkey, although before the war they had solemnly proclaimed the principle of the unchangeability of the status quo."

The plan of the allied governments, so far as the plenipotentiaries are concerned, is to concentrate their forces on Adrianople immediately after the expiration of the prescribed four days, if the surrender of that fortress does not occur in the meantime. They believe that a few days' bombardment by big siege batteries, as four new rounds Adrianople, will bring about its capitulation.

The Balkan representatives declare that all reports that Roumania would aid Bulgaria against Turkey are unfounded, and they add that if Roumania should take advantage of the opportunity to gain her territorial claims by force, while the Bulgarian army is engaged with Turkey, Bulgaria would let her occupy the territory she demands. But they declare that the Bulgarian army disposed of the Turks, the Bulgarians would turn their attention to the Roumanians and attempt to make them pay dearly for their racial dissimilarity, which the Bulgarians consider would be treated as treason.

Four Representatives Remain.

The allies expect that a preliminary treaty of peace will be signed in Adrianople by the victorious Bulgarian and Servian generals, and this will be embodied in a treaty which will be concluded in London, for which each delegation is leaving one representative in London to await the reopening of the conference.

These will be: For Bulgaria, Michael Madjoroff, minister at London; for Greece, Stephanos Skoloudis; for Montenegro, M. Popovitch, formerly minister at Constantinople, and for Servia, Dr. M. R. Venitch, minister to France.

Most of the other delegates will leave here before Monday. The Greek premier, Eleutherios Venizelos, will visit Vienna, Belgrade and Saloniki on his homeward journey, and this is considered tangible proof that the allies are preserving their unity and strengthening their compact. Thus it has been arranged in general terms that Saloniki shall be under the domination of Bulgaria, Servia and Greece, and that if differences arise between the powers in maintaining and strengthening their compact, the contending parties must defer to arbitration.

Dr. Daneff, head of the Bulgarian delegation, and M. Misin, the Roumanian minister at London, signed a protocol today embodying the views of both nations on the Roumanian claims for territory, which would give her Silistria. The protocol will furnish the basis for the negotiations.

Roumania bases her demands on the argument that the war has occasioned such changes in the political equilibrium that guarantees for the future friendship of the two nations have become necessary. The Bulgarians declare that Roumania has increased her demands since a renewal of the war has been threatened.

DIRECTS MORE WARFARE.

Bulgarian General Sends Communication to Army.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Jan. 29.—General Savoff, commander in chief of the Bulgarian army, today addressed the following communication to the men under his command:

"From the course taken by the peace negotiations it becomes evident that the enemy is unwilling to yield an inch of the territory conquered by our victorious arms."

"The Turks wish, by a stroke of the pen, to destroy all that you and your brave brothers who have fallen in battle have won."

"Will the heroes of Kirk-Killesseh, Burnarhisar, Luburugas and Tchatalja allow this affront to the glorious army of Bulgaria to go unanswered?"

"Prepare then for fresh victories and with your irresistible movement forward show the enemies and the whole world that Bulgaria, our fatherland, deserves more respect."

CHURCH CONGREGATION DIVIDED

Dr. Robert McArthur Resigns From Baptist Tabernacle at Atlanta, Ga.—Factional Trouble.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 29.—Dr. Robert McArthur, president of the World's Baptist Alliance, today tendered his resignation as pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle here, the largest institutional church in the south. The action, it is said, comes as a climax to factional disputes which have existed in the church since the Rev. Lem G. Broughton resigned as pastor to accept the charge of Christ Church in London.

Mr. McArthur was for more than forty years pastor of Calvary church, New York, and will return to New York, Friday, accompanied by Mrs. McArthur. After attending a meeting of the executive committee of the World's Alliance he will go to England and later to other parts of the continent.

No efforts will be made to obtain a successor to Mr. McArthur until the spring meeting of the Bible conference this spring, according to officials of the tabernacle.

THE EMERSON CLUB IN REGULAR SESSION

As usual, Mrs. E. E. Fitzhugh and Miss Zoe Fitzhugh were hostesses to the Emerson club. The chief business of the afternoon was the discussion of a donation to the Evangeline Settlement which will be made, Mrs. N. S. Hill, as director of the study, brought the Lady of the Lake to a very interesting finish. Scott's prose will now be studied and Kenilworth begins this next topic.

MRS. GEORGE ROTAN HOSTESS FOR HER CARD CLUB

The members of the Young Married Ladies' Bridge club were in attendance for their last game with but one exception. The hostess was Mrs. George Rotan, who entertained with some very pleasing details. Especially were her game favors admired, both being fancy pieces for the table. They were won by Mrs. Irwin Colgin and Mrs. W. S. Witte. The next game will be played with Mrs. Adrian Moore. This will probably bring adjournment for Lent. Mrs. Harold Shear was Mrs. Rotan's substitute hand.

SOCIETY'S ENGAGEMENTS FOR THIS THURSDAY

Among the most important of the social happenings for this Thursday is the large box party of the Heart Breakers for the Auditorium tonight. The Progressive bridge plays with the Misses Efron on Washington street.

The Mesdames M. B. Willis and Mattie D. Willis are at home for Mrs. J. D. Willis from 4 until 7 o'clock. The Columbian Carnival will be at the Knights of Columbus hall.

There will be an Auditorium matinee, "Bought and Paid For."

Mr. and Mrs. M. Holderman have dinner party at the Huaco club for Mr. and Mrs. Badger of Cleveland, Ohio.

The Maids and Matrons play with Miss Queen Barnett on Provident Heights.

THE CURRENT EVENT CLUB WITH MRS. LANHAM

The subject under discussion for the Current Event club at its last bi-weekly session was that of Music, and it proved very interesting. Mrs. W. J. Wigley gave an excellent paper on one division of the subject, that of sacred music. This was followed by a round table from all the nineteen members present and it brought some interesting facts. Miss Marie Anderson was assistant hostess in the service of Mrs. Lanham's elaborate lunch. No guests were present. Among the items of business the club decided to donate twenty-five dollars to the Evangeline Settlement. A committee will be appointed at the next meeting for the preparation of a new year book. This next session will be purely social with Mrs. J. D. Bell hostess.

MRS. M. HOLDERMAN HOSTESS OUT AT THE HUACO CLUB

As a card party for Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. M. Holderman was matron of five tables of bridge out at the Huaco club. This was the acknowledgment of social indebtedness to her card playing friends. Mrs. Holderman, by a series of dinners and cards, is cancelling obligations in the anticipation of the Lenten retreat as well as in her coming trip to Panama. For this bridge tilt, an agreeable company was formed and a game of exceeding pleasantness played. The prize feature found a Dresden olive dish awarded to Mrs. J. S. Hill for her high score, and a California straw jewelry to Mrs. Layton Puckett for her consolation out. One of the unexpected pleasures was the presence of the daughter, Mrs. Sherwood, from Temple. At the close of the game additional guests called, and the club chef brought out a plate of dainties. Those who received Mrs. Holderman's hospitality were: Mesdames W. W. Seely, Helms, Sidney Burrows, Hugh Thompson of Sherman, Walter Lacy, W. A. Badger of Cleveland, Charles Moore, Frank Wells, A. W. Koch, Lorton Puckett, T. A. Blair, Luke Moore, Jr., Pio Crespi, Wilson; Misses Luedde, of Kansas, Frances Luedde, Kate Friend, Nancy Lacy.

HONOR OUR TEXAS FLAG; PUT ONE AT CAMERON PARK

The suggestion of Judge Lyle that there be a Texas flag with that of the United States ensign out at Cameron park recalls an experience with the Shakspeare club a year gone by. Miss Kate Friend's membership in the world famed Shakspeare club at Stratford-on-Avon created the desire for this club to be represented in the great birth festival which holds at Stratford each year. The close of this festival finds an imposing procession to the tomb of the immortal bard and the laying there of fresh flowers from all parts of the world. A tribute was proposed from the Waco Shakspeare club. It was decided that the most appropriate would be a Texas star of fresh flowers into which should be thrust a tiny silk Texas flag. The floral design was to be made in Oxford. So far so good. But when it was in order to send the flag none could be secured. Waco could not produce the flag of her own state, one of the most illustrious banners the world knows. Search was extended to Dallas, but no flag. Finally, after two weeks delay, a telegram to a personal party succeeded in locating a flag at San Antonio. Is this not a commentary upon Texas patriotism? Not so much call them bake sales. There is nothing like knowing what is the proper phrase. What is the fastidious young woman to do? They say the dearth of certain flowers will rob us of perfume for a season. Really, we can well do without it. Perfume is by no means necessary to the well dressed woman unless it be just to the tiny drop.

The City Federation has begun correspondence looking towards an engagement this season with Bertha Kunz Baker, the noted dramatic reader.

The club women in their last meeting referred to sanitary conditions at the city laundries. Some had visited the laundries and others expressed their intention of doing so. It is a vital question as to where and how the clothes which the women are laundered. The women realize this.

Over in Dallas there is a rum club. Surely, the Waco matrons are not going to be caught lagging in their assumption of this game now so popular in the East.

Now is not this an expression, "smile, filigree, the hall? Come to think about it, the 'filigree' part is rather a good word to convey the idea. Especially, when we have come to be weary of the 'smile' effect of foliage sprays. There is nothing like the something new.

The several alumnus of this city do not promote the fraternal feeling that they should. Why is this? It is not expected to have to Dallas for grand opera, do try to hear these masterpieces of music intelligently. Study now, both the history and the theme. Read musical criticism, and then decide for yourself.

The last of the present week will find Mrs. Douglas Herring enjoying a reunion with her three sisters, the Mesdames George Coates from Fort Worth, Stewart from Dalworth and James Baker from Houston.

Among the interesting matrons who have recently arrived to reside in the city is Mrs. Linke, who is matron of the C. R. Hill cottage on Columbus near Eighth.

Miss Estelle Dunlap of Waxahachie, the present visitor to Mrs. William Neale on Austin Avenue, has been renewing former acquaintance at the social gatherings of the past week.

Resolution Would Direct Recognition. Washington, Jan. 29.—The resolution directing recognition by this government of the Chinese republic received brief consideration today at the hands of the senate committee on foreign relations, but action was postponed.

The suggestion was made that a minister had been received from the Asiatic republic, which, it was argued, was equivalent to a formal recognition. Inquiry will be made on this point, and if necessary, the resolution will be considered at a future meeting.

HARVESTER FIRM EXPLAINS Stockholders of International Company to Receive Details of Corporation by Letter.

New York, Jan. 29.—Stockholders of the International Harvester Company tomorrow will receive a circular giving the details of the International Harvester Corporation, recently incorporated in New Jersey to handle the foreign and domestic plants of the company.

The new company is to take over half the net assets and surplus of the existing company and to assume such portion of the debt of the present corporation. It will have approximately one half of the present company's earning capacity.

"It is proposed," the circular says, "to reduce each class of the capital stock of the company by one half, so that after the reduction it will have outstanding the same amount of preferred and common stock as the new corporation and so that the present holdings of each stockholder in the existing company will be reduced one half. Upon such reduction being made each stockholder will be paid $100 in cash for each share, preferred or common, cancelled by such reduction; or at his option will receive in lieu of such cash payment shares of stock of the new corporation of the same value as the cancelled shares of stock. It is expected that the new corporation will at once begin to pay dividends upon its stock, preferred and common, at the same rates and dates as in the case of the present company."

Cyrus McCormick, president of the corporation, stated that the formation of the new company is due to the suit of the government for dissolution of the original corporation.

ENDORSES THE HALL OF FAME Col. Milner Approves of the Plan Suggested by The Morning News.

College Station, Texas, Jan. 29.—Hearty approval of the plan taken up by The Waco Morning News and the Fort Worth Record for the establishment of a Hall of Fame for Texas farmers at the A. & M. college has been given by Col. R. T. Milner, president of the big state school here. The plan advanced by The Morning News is to place in this Hall of Fame a painting of the person admitted and a memorial tablet telling of the things he has accomplished. This plan is not being carried out in Illinois at the state agricultural school.

"I think this plan is a great one," said Colonel Milner today. "Texas certainly has a great many farmers who have accomplished notable work along agricultural lines. Some of the greatest farmers of the union have been and are Texans. We have been very slow about showing our appreciation of their great worth, and I am fully convinced that we should take steps along the lines outlined in The Morning News in this fight until we realize the accomplishment of this purpose."

"We have an enrollment this year of a little more than 1,000 students, half of which number are enrolled in the study of agriculture in some phase or another. I am sure that the location of such a hall here at the college would greatly stimulate the boys in their efforts and I am very hopeful that The Morning News and the Record will continue this fight until we realize the accomplishment of this purpose."

THAT MYSTERIOUS PLEDGE.

Just what became of that pledge not to mention the secret discussions of our fellow citizens indulged in by the committee of one-and-twenty? To be sure, the unpledged Waco News gave the city all information necessary a few days ahead of the editor who took the pledge, but that would have been the case even if the pledged editor had not been pledged. It was as easy for a camel to somersault through the eye of a needle as for a newspaper to print the news on pledges. B. B. of W.

Mr. W. H. Berry, former State treasurer of Pennsylvania, recommends issuing paper legal tender based on government, State and municipal bonds and backed by a gold reserve of at least twenty per cent, as a "solution of the currency problem." We would suggest Mr. Berry must provide for an equitable and sufficient distribution of said issue before he can solve ours.

As To "Waking Waco."

To the makers of a daily newspaper, the opinion of men in their own vocation who while in harness have watched the rise (and occasional fall) of newspapers in the State for more than a score of years is of substantial value, either in criticism or encouragement. Mr. M. J. Cox ("Mary Jane," for he is seldom called by any other name), an editor of the McAllen Monitor, is one of the oldest newspaper men in Texas; quoted by every live newspaper in the State that is not so immersed in its own importance it is unwilling to give space to the worthwhile opinions of its contemporaries. That is why "Mary Jane" is thanked for what follows, from The Monitor:

Dear old sleepy Waco is really beginning to wake up at last, having as a prod-pole The Waco Morning News. In our opinion, Waco ought to be the best city in Texas, but the prevailing spirit for the past twenty years has been "let well enough alone," and it is away down the line. The Times-Herald, with the venerable George Robinson as editor, that has had the daily newspaper field there for years, has been content to let things rock along, as the paper was making oodles of money under existing conditions, so why stir up the animals? The new paper is of quite a different type and while it may lose money for a time, if it keeps up its lick it will make a new Waco and reap its reward later. Success to its efforts.

Mr. Cox's praise is sincere. It is stimulating, but his judgment on Waco is several degrees out of the true course. It is not so long since the editors invited him to a week off that he might look over the town and expatiate on its remarkable improvement in his paper that serves the pleasant little community just this side the border. How many years is it since his last visit? In the expression, "the old town," is implied infinitely more home pride, home love and ambition than in the words "boom town" or "metropolis," whether the old town is a city of skyscrapers or a settlement clustering near one main street of mercantile houses. That has been the Waco spirit, in "the old town's" behalf, for more years than Mr. Cox probably would be willing to believe. And this city is growing rapidly. We admit, it is still largely a "raw material city"; there is still something of the "rough diamond" in its general make-up. Industrially, agriculturally, in real estate, even (always calling for the opening of the river to navigation) in commercial relation to the entire country, Waco is a place of great resources that will make it a great city before many years. But Mr. Cox is wrong as to the novelty of its wide-awakeness. Development has for a long time been steadily going on, in public works.

"GROSS INJUSTICE."

The Waco News yesterday condemned in plain terms the proposal that a house committee investigate the conduct of the State anti-tuberculosis commission, and, in connection with locating the first tuberculosis colony at Carlsbad, inquire into the conduct of the senate committee of the last legislature that considered the bill in question. The Houston Chronicle has this comment on the investigation resolution:

No citizen can reasonably object to any investigation of any department of the State government, or of the action of any board or commission or official, if there be any probable ground to believe that there has been any lack of official vigilance or fidelity to duty, but the Chronicle does not believe it is entirely consistent with fairness and justice to public officials to order an investigation at the public expense on the ex parte affidavit of any man, charging only in general terms "improper conduct." If the action of any board or commission be unwise, or the result of mistaken judgment, such action does not come within the scope of the meaning of the term "improper conduct," which phrase carries the implication of willful wrong-doing and the perversion of official opportunity for personal benefit at the expense of the State; in short, it implies official infidelity. Because this is true, the resolution providing for investigation of the official action of the State anti-tuberculosis commission is calculated to do gross injustice to most worthy citizens. The chairman is Frank Bushick, a man of high standing, known throughout the State. Houston furnished, in the person of Major F. Charles Hume, one member of that commission, and every man who knows Major Hume not only does not believe he was guilty of any "improper conduct," but knows absolutely that he was not.

A SENSE OF FITNESS.

It is pleasant to remember, however, that the retiring senator, R. M. Johnston made no scramble before the Texas legislature for the brief honor of this seat in the senate, which was bestowed unsolicited, a testimonial of personal worth and loyal service to State and party. His friends would have been unappreciative of his work had they permitted the senatorship to government and business. In many respects Waco is now more modern than any city of its territory and population in the South. The South, Mr. Cox must recall, has had a greater handicap to overcome in the past forty years than any other section. Before new cities could be built, a new spirit of progress, of business ideas and ideals, was imperatively necessary. It took rather long to inculcate this spirit. This reply will not dwell on Waco's substance in business, its standing as an agricultural center, the beauty of its homes and the ability of its citizens. These are known in Texas. The valley editor is a little too far distant to discern "the tallest building in the South" and to hear the hum of the city's motor-driven apparatus, and to know the consistent work of its business organizations for better, bigger, more rapid city building. Waco is arriving fast. Its eyes were rubbed long before Mr. Cox's last visit.

But the Morning News will confess to a not infrequent desire to prod and the realization of an occasional necessity to prod. It would do its part to build, not so much a "new Waco," as a greater Waco. It prods in preference to petting; it never howls down the efforts of any other factor to obtain public benefits of proven merit; it has no desire to belittle the work, in any good cause, initiated by another. It has no jealousies and no spleen. Occasionally (and in this Mr. Cox is correct) its writers find art of roses fluid and Biblical quotations are not effective stimulants of public interest in the community's welfare; a little iron in the ink serves the purpose better. Soft soap is useless as a foundation for street paving and it will not cement the bricks of a new hotel. Nor will confetti and puffballs drive home an argument when a local celebrity suggests muzzling the press and another stirs the reputation of the community that supplies his bread and salt.

The Morning News is a newspaper produced by newspaper men. It will "keep up its lick," try to continue in the spirit that there is glory enough for all, and do all it honestly and zealously may to make good its utterance that "we are building here a great city." Meanwhile, we would hasten to assure "Mary Jane" he would approve of its present business and its payroll, so he needn't sympathize with us on that score. He will find us still clamoring for adequate public utilities and improvements, competent city government, schools not "good enough," but best; for whatever will help Waco and against whatever will impede its progress.

be taken from him without the expression of their votes. We commend Senator Johnston. There was no "Rienzi to the Romans" impropriety, insofar as he was concerned, connected with the senatorial election at Austin.

ME AND HOGG.

Apparently we have not hitherto properly appreciated the grandeur of mind, the courage of convictions, the nobility of purpose possessed by one of our most distinguished townsmen, Brethren Beloved of Waco.

AS APPOINTED.

It is to admire and applaud Judge E. R. Meek of the federal district court in Dallas for his arrest order issued Monday at the request of Mr. District Attorney Atwell, on indictments charging breach of the anti-trust laws against Messrs. Archbold, Folger and others that were returned last summer by the federal grand jury in that city. It is to find in his criticism of Mr. Attorney General Wickersham's interposition between the arrest of Mr. Archbold and others, on warrants after these indictments, an exceptionally fine argument in favor of the appointive judiciary, especially for the federal bench.

The finding of indictments in Dallas against officers of Standard Oil, the Magnolia company and other well-known persons in the oil business in Texas and without, created a nine days' sensation in this State last summer. The then attorney general of Texas, Mr. Walthall, hastened to Dallas to look into the federal modus operandi and to confer on evidence, possibly predicated a State prosecution. Mr. John Sealf, and other directors of the Magnolia, called on Mr. Walthall and the governor at Austin. Nothing happened "locally."

Judge Meek finds the action of a federal grand jury is not to be hastily passed over. He considers the nation's attorney general is acting incomprehensibly in "withholding the arm of the law in this prosecution." Evidently he does not agree with the department of justice's assistants who advised Mr. Wickersham there was not sufficient evidence resulting in the Dallas indictments to sustain conviction thereunder, or justify bringing into Texas the famed officials of Standard Oil, for trial. At all events, it is refreshing to read this, coming from the bench:

These persons have been indicted by a duly constituted grand jury of this court, are charged with a violation of the criminal provisions of the Sherman act. The indictment is now pending against them on the docket of this court. They are called to respond to the charges made against them at the bar of this court. From observation of and experience with the executive department for some fifteen years, I have all confidence in the integrity of its attitude as to the enforcement of the criminal law and the prosecution of those charged with crime. I have no doubt it is moved by its conception of the law and duty, but I do not understand its attitude in this prosecution. It is a new practice for the executive department to intervene between the process of its own courts and the defendants for the protection of the latter—to shield them from arrest under an indictment duly returned by a grand jury against them. There is no precedent for it in this district.

It was charged Standard, Magnolia companies' officials, and others, conspired to destroy the Pierce-Fordyce Oil association, etc. Those who know Texas corporation conditions might not readily believe an indictment on this score is merely a fragile bubble, at least so fragile as to justify pigeonholing the charge without court inquiry. Judge Meek finds nothing to deter him from calling the case, and ordering the arrest of foreign defendants, in the mere fact that Washington did not O. K. the action of his court's grand jury.

We like that. It is fearless, open and conscientious. It makes a very just distinction between facts, or evidence, found and theory passed in judgment thereon. The court considers the department of justice acted prematurely, by several stages. Court process had issued. Is it proper for Mr. Wickersham to halt service thereon?

We recall well the objections originally offered to the appointment of Judge Meek in the administration of Mr. Harrison: not long enough residence in the State, and like "reasons." He has made an excellent judge of the federal district court. Such action as this recently ordered by him does much to promote confidence in the ability and integrity of judges appointed to serve "during good behavior." How often has an elected judge taken a stand of this character in the prosecution of great business interests? The very loophole to dismiss, offered by the opinion of the attorney general or district attorney on the evidence, would be welcomed by him, in many cases!

The record of the appointive judiciary in the federal courts, the Massachusetts courts, other States where the governor names the judges, is a clean and strong record. Such strikingly rare instances as the Archbold impeachment serve only to accentuate the strength of such service. The appointed judge is independent, no man's puppet—the power that appointed him is out of control the moment his commission is signed, for he may be removed by a majority of the senate only for actual, proven misfeasance. As a justice, he owes no political debts. Nine times in ten, the ring can't call an appointed justice "our judge." We have frequently expressed the hope that every State, in due time, would realize the superiority of the appointive system; remove from the good judge the necessity of periodic scramble for office, make him mind-free, wipe out all chance of corruption or control.

And yet the Minnesota house of representatives passed unanimously a joint resolution for the election of federal judges—doubtless still smarting under the rate cases decision. Its action should have powerful endorsement, however—Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Bryan having sometime pounded on this "reform."

THE WOMEN'S TICKET.

The Waco News has reiterated its confidence that the sterling ticket of four candidates for the school board presented by the Mothers' Clubs and women of this city will be signally successful at the polls. Now that a local afternoon paper is indulging itself in editorial sarcasm at the expense of the meeting that nominated that ticket, suggesting that the hold-over members resign and "permit a new deal," and like acritillations, this newspaper is more certain than ever that the Mothers' ticket will triumph. Just what the authors of these caustic comments think they will accomplish by an attempt to inject personal animus into the campaign for school trusteeships; just what may be their motive in seeking to ridicule the right of educated women to think and act for themselves in the most vital and sacred of all home considerations, the education of their children, must be left to persons more expert than are we in following the curious tangents of mental processes. Of this much we are convinced: No comment that would tend to deride the dignity and honesty of the women's purpose in naming candidates (including women) for the school board, woman's chief concern in civic government, can be other than a boomerang.

Contrast the editorial expressions now rife in a Waco paper concerning the action of the mass meeting of women, with this broad-minded comment from the Temple Telegram on the local situation:

Once Waco did get started, she accumulated a gait which is leaving her cities far in the rear, in several lines of progress. Her latest move in "progressiveness" is to present a ticket of women candidates for the school board. Waco women can't vote as yet, but they can hold office and is predicted that the next school board in that city will have one or more representatives from the home-makers.

Outraging a statesman-preacher.—New York Sun.

We thought that type was confined to Texas.

Texas Viewpoints

"Colonel" Lochridge. With this issue of the Statesman Lloyd P. Lochridge becomes editor. He is of Austin and needs no introduction to the people of Austin. His work during the time he has been staff writer for the Statesman has attracted Statewide attention and has won for him a secure place among the newspaper writers of Texas. Chester T. Crowell, who has been managing editor of the Statesman, has resigned to become editor of the Journal of Association. The first number will be issued next month from the office of publication in San Antonio. His departure is regretted by the Statesman and his friends in Austin. His work in the editorial columns and the editorial department generally has been of a high order.—Austin Statesman.

"Editor Lochridge" will sound somewhat strange to the majority of Texas editors and correspondents, not because one has any doubt of "Ole's" ability to serve expertly on any desk in a newspaper office, but because he has been so active in field work the three years past, omnipresent in the travels of political candidates from one corner of Texas to the diagonally opposite, that any change that will keep him indoors will be noticeable. But we assume Colonel Lochridge II (his father being also accorded the dignity of that title) will not altogether relinquish his investigations and reports that have an end in the many ramifications of Statehouse politics and the busyness of the legislature. If he is to take up editorial work entirely, he has made a bright exit from staff correspondence, for his series of articles treating of the inequities of the fee system has attracted wide attention in Texas. Viewpoints extends to young Colonel Lochridge his hearty congratulations and is assured his editorship will be a credit to himself and of value to his newspaper.

Sorry School Books.

Again our friend the germ. Second-hand books have been barred from the public schools in Wisconsin on the ground that they contain germs.—Palatine Herald.

Which moves us to express the wish that several States, Texas among them, were equally solicitous in barring from public schools all books, new or old, that contain no germs of thought or may germinate thoughts that will result in a narrow, illiberal view of the world's history, its great men in any nation and walk of life or (above all) a restricted idea of the need of kindness and tolerance in the daily affairs of life. We wish all books could be barred that are not absolutely essential in the foundation of a safe, sensible and serviceable education.

There is Hope.

There seems to be serious trouble at the Juvenile training school at Gatesville, and it is now announced that there will likely be a complete change in the management at no distant date. Superintendent Adams of that institution has been in conference with the governor, but no inkling of what transpired at the conference has been made public.—McKinney Courier-Gazette.

That was written, as we remember, shortly before the Gatesville board elected a new superintendent, but it will serve to add another bit of interesting, dependable testimony from Texas press for the consideration of the legislative committees that may conclude it is their duty to look into the institution's weakness and supply its needs. Mr. Eddins of Marlin will take charge there when confirmed, but neither Mr. Eddins nor any other educator can succeed as he is ambitious to succeed unless the State does its part in remedying conditions. The superintendent must be enabled to deal with all classes of boys under liberal and modern arrangement of workshops, class rooms and farm forces; he must have the money for supplies of the common necessities in sanitation and, surely, money to equip the "training school" end of the place. If Mr. Eddins personally takes up this grave situation with the committees at Austin he will have plenty of earnest aid from the press and from the women's organizations of Texas.

Widely Different Proposals.

"Many men of many minds." Senator Terrell wants to cut down the legislative mileage, while Senator McGregor would exempt cotton manufacturers in Texas from taxes for twenty-five years. But they cannot please all men, so why try?—Laredo Times.

Hundreds of Texans would like to see Mr. McGregor's proposal legalized, even at the cost of another amendment to the constitution, that the State might take its place among the manufacturing districts of the Union with its rare facilities for supplying such factories with material. More hundreds would object to Mr. Terrell's proposal, for there is good sound argument that Texas, like older States, should pay its legislators and officers a reasonable compensation. "Patriotism" is a mighty on-sartin quantity, in this day, considered as an inspirer of intelligent and zealous public service.

Interurban Roads.

(Temple Telegram.) No less than three distinct organizations are announcing that they will build an interurban road from Temple to Waco, and each includes the more pretentious ambition of extending to Dallas on the north and to Austin as a present southern terminus.

The Temple Light & Power company, already in the field and with tracks practically completed into Waco and also owning the street car service in that city, with ownership of electric light plants covering a string of cities, including Temple, has declared intention to build to Austin via Temple at an early date.

A company formed in Waco recently announces the capital stock raised for building a road via Temple to Austin. This project is known to be definitely organized and ready for work.

The third proposition comes from a Temple concern, the Southwestern Traction company. This company is owned outright by Temple people, and it has in operation a line between this city and Belton, with a city service in Temple. The statement is made by the officers of the Southwestern that they have perfected arrangements by which the Temple-Belton line can be extended to Marlin, and presumably, that would include a fork branching off to Waco. It is also asserted that the ultimate proposal includes building to Dallas and to Austin, with sufficient capital interested and pledged to carry out the plans.

Temple wants to get on the "interurban map" and as the aspect now presents, there is excellent ground for belief that there will be at least two companies to build across-state lines with Temple as a gateway between North and South Texas. It is accepted that the home people intend to get busy as per their announcement. There is nothing of the "promoter" road building about their proposal, and their assertion regarding financial ability may be taken as 100 per cent fact.

It is hoped that the Temple line may be the one, if there is to be only one, which may be extended. Aside from loyalty to home institutions and aside from the consideration of many advantages of having a big system of interurbans operated from and by Temple, there is the added advantage of securing adequate street car service over the city, a commendation to be fulfilled before Temple can do much more spreading out.

At an early date a proposal will be made by the home company and the Temple public would do well to give the subject deep thought, in all the best interests of the city.

When the time comes to act, there is going to be given an opportunity to Temple to make a great forward movement.

Taking No Chances.

Ollie James, senator-elect from Kentucky, weighs somewhere near four hundred pounds and hates to ride in a sedan chair. Once, traveling back to his home from the capital, he did not get a lower berth for love or money. The man who had bought the lower berth beneath the bunk on which Ollie was to sleep was looking for a berth. The porter made up a sleeping car for the night James examined the upper very carefully and shook it violently.

"I am scared of these uppers," he cried to the little man. The last time I slept in one it turned down on my head. The hundred-and-one-pounder did not say a word at that moment. But half an hour later, when James returned from the smoking compartment, the small man was fast asleep in the upper berth. A note, pinned on the curtain, read:

"Take the lower. I hate to sleep in them."

For Women's Education.

Less Latin and mathematics in the high schools and colleges for women and more instruction that will fit them for duties as women, greater interest in suppression of vice and immorality and the conservation of children were the topics recently discussed before a woman's club in New York by United States Commissioner of Education Claxton. He believed the study of the dead languages and thought that mathematics was regarded as an educational study, but he favored more training which should fit a woman to know her duties as a home-maker. He closed his remarks by stating that after she has been graduated an average young woman is soon married, and when her little baby is ill what good is it going to do her to read a whole verse of Cicero or to do problems in solid geometry?

CONFERENCE OF SOCIAL WELFARE

ENDORSES CENTRAL BOARD OF CONTROL FOR INSTITUTIONS OF THE STATE.

RIGHTS OF MARRIED WOMEN

Care of Children—Hom e for Feeble Minded—Favor Civil Service for State Positions.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 29.—A social welfare conference of the state organization of charities and corrections closed their session this afternoon with the adoption of resolutions on a number of subjects of paramount importance to the association. In the resolutions to be submitted to the current session of the legislature specific mention is given to the welfare of children, public health, welfare of women, a state home for the feeble minded, civil service, property rights of married women, suspended sentence measure and the indeterminate sentence, with parole.

All of these matters will be presented to the legislature after having been thoroughly threshed out in the conference before its adjournment today. The resolutions adopted were:

Central Board of Control. We favor the creation of a central board of administration and control for the charitable and correctional institutions of the state, other than the penitentiary system; and we especially urge that provision be made for the board to act in an advisory capacity in connection with local public and private institutions of similar character.

Welfare of Children. We favor the enactment of a compulsory school attendance law providing for attendance of children under 14 years of age for 120 days in each scholastic year.

We favor the enactment of an effective child labor law embodying the principles of the uniform child labor law as far as may be applicable to the conditions in Texas.

We urge that the juvenile court law be so amended, so as to make the juvenile court an effective agency, providing for appointment of probation officers and enabling counties to appropriate funds for this purpose.

We reaffirm the resolution adopted at our November meeting urging that a state industrial school for delinquent girls be established; that the present school for delinquent boys at Gatesville be adequately equipped and provided with expert teachers of manual training and vocational subjects, so as to enable these boys to earn an honest living after their release. We further recommend that the cottage plan be used in all further additions to the school.

Public Health. We approve the plan to authorize and empower counties to establish county hospitals and dispensaries, with visiting nurses where necessary.

We urge that provisions be made for medical and physical examination of school children, to the end that our schools may cease to be centers for the scattering of contagious and infectious diseases. In this connection we favor the requirement of the erection of sanitary school buildings.

Welfare of Women. We favor an adequate law defining and punishing family desertion and non-support. We believe such a law should provide that the fines go not to the state but to the family.

State Home for Feeble-Minded. We urge that an institution for the care and training of the feeble-minded be established, so as to make proper provision for the care of these lawless wards of the state, render them as nearly self-supporting as possible, and prevent the future increase of this burden upon society.

Civil Service. We urge that future appointments to positions of public office should be upon the grounds of merit and efficiency only to the end that our public institutions shall render the highest possible service to the state. We, therefore, urge the creation of a civil service commission.

Property Rights of Married Women. We favor amending the law of the state so as to give married women the same control of their separate property as that exercised by men.

We also favor the restriction of the hours of labor and provision of seats for working women, the suspended sentence law and the indeterminate sentence with parole.

Each delegate to the conference was called upon by Dr. J. A. Jackson of Waco, chairman of the committee on organization and finance, to pledge himself to secure at least ten members for the organization. A proper membership campaign should increase the membership to almost 2,000 within a year, he stated. The present membership is 200.

Mrs. Edward Rotan of Waco spoke in behalf of the establishment of a state industrial school for homeless girls. This was approved by the conference, but upon motion of Dr. M. Moore of Austin, went on record as being opposed to the principle of co-educational schools for delinquent boys and girls.

The discussion on the topic of property rights for married women was led by Mrs. Hortense Ward of Houston. The conference went on record as being strongly in favor of it. As a committee to assist the authors of these bills in having them passed, the following were appointed: Mrs. Ward, Mrs. J. A. Jackson of Austin, Dr. Turner of Austin and Mrs. J. A. Baker of Houston.

"We Wonder Why!" The subject of the "Peerless Leader" is always handled very carefully in the office of Speaker Clark at the capital. A member of the Kentucky congressional delegation took a constituent in to see the speaker not long after the Baltimore convention.

"I met you once before," said the garrulous visitor. "It was at one of William J. Bryan's birthday celebrations."

"Well, drawed Mr. Clark, 'you can store this in your memory, too, that you'll never see me at another one."

The professor of English at Boston University inclines to 25 years as the ideal age at which men should marry. He scoffs at 20 and 30. He states that 30 is the timid age, 40 the dangerous age.

You Beer Drinkers

Don't Drink Beer from Light Glass Bottles

Read the following opinion of a scientist, an authority who has experimented and therefore knows that "light starts decay even in pure beer."

"We have tested beers repeatedly, placing the bottles in the direct sunlight, and testing the same after one, two, three and five minutes exposure, found that the beer with three and five minutes exposure became undrinkable on account of the peculiar odor developed. The detrimental effect of light upon beer can be successfully counteracted by the employment of brown or dark colored glass bottles, and such bottles are, therefore, recommendable."

—Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology.

The Schlitz Brown Bottle is only another step for absolute purity in Schlitz beer.

We have adopted every invention, every innovation, every idea that could make for purity.

Schlitz was first brewed in a hut. Today our agencies dot the earth. Our output exceeds a million barrels a year.

DISSOLUTION SUIT NEAR END

Further Testimony Received Bearing on Acquisition of Hill Ore Lease by Steel Company.

New York, Jan. 29.—Today's hearing in the government suit to dissolve the United States Steel corporation was occupied with other testimony bearing on the acquisition by the corporation of the Hill Ore lease and the introduction of statistical evidence. H. P. Nelson, the ore expert, who yesterday testified that in his opinion the steel corporation had paid an exorbitant price for the lease to keep the ore out of the hands of its competitors, was cross-examined.

The witness admitted that after the lease had been consummated, even higher royalties were paid for ores by independent interests than those stipulated in the lease, but said this was because of the scarcity of ore in the district after the hill lands had been removed from the market. He reiterated his statement that the acquisition of Hill lands, together with the transportation facilities controlled by the corporation gave it an advantage over competitors.

The statistical evidence was produced at the request of the government by William M. Gray, head of the statistical bureau of the American Iron and Steel Institute, and supplemented similar evidence produced by the witness at a previous hearing. It was intended to prove that the Steel corporation has enjoyed a monopolistic share of the country's output of iron and steel.

It had been expected the government would complete its case today, but lack of time forced counsel to postpone the examination of two additional witnesses until tomorrow.

PROFITS GO TO CHRISTIANITY

"Five-Cent Store King" Content with His Savings, to Become Philanthropist.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 29.—H. C. Duke of Dallas, Texas, but formerly of Georgia, known throughout the southwest as the "five-cent store king," has saved up more than $100,000 from his business and hereafter will devote the earnings of his twenty-one stores to Christianity.

Mr. Duke, who is visiting relatives here, stated today that he and his wife recently decided they had enough money and coveted with their consciences to contribute the balance of their earnings to Christianity. They made their covenant effective January 1 last.

BELIEVE MEYERS SHANGHAIED.

First Sergeant's Disappearance Causes Much Comment.

Galveston, Jan. 29.—First Sergeant Edward Meyers of the hundred and twenty-seventh company coast artillery, who mysteriously disappeared from Fort Crockett about two months ago and for whom the police in every city in Texas had been asked to search was shanghaied in Galveston and taken to Vera Cruz, Mexico, according to a letter which he has written to the authorities at Fort Crockett.

The letter has just been received, and Meyers says that he is trying to get back to the post by February 24, when his time for enlistment for which he can draw pay for the last three months, expires. Meyers has been in the army for many years.

FARM ANIMALS NOT DISPLACED

Number of Horses and Mules Increase, as Does Their Value—Auto Makes No Change.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The introduction of the automobile on farms of the United States has not displaced the horse or mule for the latest estimate of the number of these animals on farms January 1 this year announced today by the department of agriculture, shows more horses than ever before except in 1909 and 1910, and more mules than any previous record. Horses and mules were of greater value than ever before except in 1911. The number of horses increased 58,000 over last year and mules increased 24,000.

While the number of beasts of burden on the farm increased, the number of food animals decreased. Milch cows decreased 220,000 since January 1, 1912; other cattle decreased 1,230,000; sheep decreased 880,000, and swine decreased 4,232,000.

An average value per head compared with 1912, horses increased $4.83, mules $1.30, milch cows $5.63, other cattle $3.16, sheep 48 cents, swine $1.58. In total value the increases were: Horses $105,528,000, mules $9,588,000, milch cows $107,369,000, other cattle $159,581,000, sheep $21,609,000, swine $17,781,000.

The total value of all farm animals increased $943,865,000, or 9.9 per cent over 1912.

TERM MEASURE UP.

Bill Proposing Six-Year Term to Be Decided.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Final action on the resolution proposing a six-year presidential term, to be submitted as a constitutional amendment to the states, will be taken in the senate before adjournment tomorrow. The Works resolution, which has been pending for several months, has been made a special order of business. It is believed the measure will have a strong majority in its favor.

The proposed amendment if ratified by two-thirds of the states would become effective after the end of President Wilson's present term.

'FAME NOT CLOAK FOR PROTECTION'

MUCH SYMPATHY MISDIRECTED DECLARES NEW YORK ATTORNEY.

SICKLES' CASE IS SUBJECT

Prosecutor Claims General's Rank is Not Sufficient to Have State Drop Prosecution.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 29.—The fame of General Daniel E. Sickles as a soldier should not deter New York state in its efforts to collect the $23,476 unaccounted for by the general as chairman of the New York monuments commission.

This is the view advanced by Attorney General Carmody in a letter today to Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet of Gainesville, Ga., widow of the Confederate general.

In a telegram to Attorney General Carmody, Mrs. Longstreet offered to raise $23,476 from "the ragged and maimed followers of Lee."

Attorney General Carmody's letter says:

"Your sympathetic and patriotic expression do justice to your heart, but they do violence to the facts in this case. General Sickles is being prosecuted by the state of New York for converting to his own use the sum of $23,476. This money came into his hands as chairman of the State Monuments commission, to be used among other purposes for the erection of monuments to mark the resting places on the field of Gettysburg of the brave soldiers who fell in defense of their country and to provide for a celebration upon the field of Gettysburg, in which those living might participate, at the state's expense, in a fitting manner."

"General Sickles appropriated this amount to his own private use, and he has endeavored to justify or to defend, admitting that he took the state's money for private use, without authority of law, and under the laws of all civilized governments, means stealing. He was given his own time to repay this amount and that time was extended at his suggestion without any desire to embarrass him and with the full appreciation of the claim which he has upon this nation for the great services he rendered in the rebellion."

"These services cannot be overestimated, but even the fame of the soldier must not be used as a cloak or protection of crime, and it is nothing less than misdirected sympathy to undertake to confuse the questions involved as to make an ordinary prosecution for a crime seem like persecution and to elevate as a martyr a person who confesses his dereliction."

"New York state appreciates her heroes and feels humiliated at the spectacle which this case presents. New York state also respects her laws and seeks to enforce them in a spirit of equality to all."

"I trust this brief statement of the facts will show you how misdirected have been your views, how misplaced your sympathy and how misdirected your criticism."

LINCOLN MEMORIAL UP TO TAFT

Bill Appropriating $2,000,000 for Construction Passes House and Senate Unamended.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The house late today adopted the joint resolution approving plans of the fine arts commission for a $2,000,000 memorial to the memory of Abraham Lincoln, in this city. The resolution also has passed the senate and now goes to the president for his signature.

Unlike the proceedings of the house last Wednesday, when a filibuster by the democrats prevented action on the project, the house today was practically unanimous on the adoption of the resolution.

In the debate on the measure sectional feeling was eliminated and representatives from the north and the south joined in tribute to Lincoln.

The substitute proposal of Representative Borland of Missouri for a national highway between Washington and Gettysburg received little support. Representative Stephens of Texas proposed the erection of a huge assembly hall in Washington, to be known as the Lincoln memorial hall, as a substitute for the monument, but it was ruled out, as was Representative Sim's suggestion of a memorial arch.

Plans of the fine arts commission call for the erection of a monument in Potomac park, just south of the white house, to be housed by a Greek temple. An appropriation of $2,000,000 already has been made for its construction.

Representatives Mann, Cannon, McCall, James, Heflin, Humphreys of Mississippi and others led the fight for the adoption of the resolution.

Glitter of Gold Lace.

New York, Jan. 29.—The imagination falters when it attempts to footnote the grandeur and magnificence of gold lace multi-colored uniforms and bubbling spirits which will be seen at the eighty-seventh anniversary ball of New York's famous Old Guard in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

The garden is being transformed for the occasion into a scene resembling an army camp. All the arena boxes are to be floored over and rows of tents erected upon the platforms so formed. Some of these tents are reserved for the governors of states and their military staffs, others for the commanding officers of the visiting military bodies.

Large Order.

Two farmers sat in the public room of a local hotel. Neither of them could read or write, and each was ignorant of the other's failing, says Tit-Bits.

A waiter coming into the room handed one of them a telegram.

The farmer opened it at once, and pretended to read, saying as he did so, "very good, very good indeed," loud enough for the other to hear. He then handed him the telegram, asking him if he would advise him to accept the offer. No. 2 also pretended to read and said that it was very good, but he could not think of advising him in a matter of that sort.

The first farmer then got a telegram form to write his acceptance of the offer he pretended he had received. Not being able to write, he pretended that he had sprained his wrist and asked No. 2 to write it for him. But he at once refused on the plea that they would recognize his handwriting.

The waiter was then called in and farmer No. 1 addressed him as follows: "Will you kindly answer this telegram for me?" handing it to him to read. "Tell them I'll take half a score at five shillings per head."

"But, sir," said the waiter, "there must be some mistake. That is not the answer to this, surely. Your telegram says, 'Come at once, twins.'"

"Great Scott!" yelled the farmer, "I've given you the wrong one!"

WHERE PRIZES MAY BE SEEN

The two R. C. H. Autos at Mitchell's Garage.
The two Apollo Player Pianos at Thos. Goggan & Bros.
The two Building Lots in Highland Place.
The four Diamond Rings at Hafner & Anderson's.
The four Solid Gold Watches at Hafner & Anderson's.
If your name is included in the list below, you have a chance to win one of these prizes. If not, there is no one to blame but yourself.
The winners will be announced in Sunday's issue if possible.

It will all be over Saturday, but the outing, and there is no telling at this time who will do the shouting. The contest manager does not know. Neither does anybody else. Rumors of what such and such a candidate has in the way of votes are rife today and will be tomorrow, but they should be treated as rumors. A candidate may know what she has, but it is safe to say that nobody else does.

For all that the contest manager knows some of the candidates who were not in the running a week ago may have votes enough to carry off first honors, and they still may be in the "also ran" class.

But speaking of rumors, there were rumors of dark horses yesterday that were quite worthy of credence. The conditions in some districts were such that a candidate with enough votes for a start would be wanting in spirit if she did not go after the top prizes in a case where somebody was lying down with the idea that it was all over and that she had the auto, player piano or building lot won, and there is nothing to do but await the distribution of the prizes. Some wise candidates way down in the list have seen their opportunity and are taking advantage of it. The contest manager knows very little about the fresh starts that have been or are being made, but he is not surprised.

This is not the time for candidates to sit down in the fond belief that the contest is all over. The time is not yet ripe for joyriding in one of those elegant R-C-H touring cars or listening to the strains of music as peeled forth from one of the Apollo Player Pianos, and the girl who thinks that it is near time to take possession of one of those building lots in Highland Place is due for an awakening.
The contest will not be over in any district until the polls close at 10 o'clock Saturday night.

Votes by Mail.

All votes and remittances mailed today can be mailed in the regular way, but every letter sent after this time should be sent SPECIAL DELIVERY

ment, care The Morning News.

After the contest has closed, the ballot box will be turned over to the judges in charge and the counting of the votes will begin immediately and the winners of the prizes announced at the earliest possible moment.

with the News will have anything to do with the counting of the votes.

The Theatres

Unless patrons of the Auditorium call for the tickets reserved for a matinee by 12 o'clock on the day of the matinee and by 5 p. m. on the afternoon of the night performance, tickets which have been laid away will be sold. Managers Brian and Ingram say they have sold all seats for each performance of "Bought and Paid For" and for "Everywoman," and there are more calls. A lot of tickets have been ordered by telephone and have been laid away, but these cannot be held indefinitely and must be called for. Those two attractions are drawing big with the people and the house at each performance will be crowded.

"Bought and Paid For."

Of "Bought and Paid For," which comes to the Auditorium tonight, the Fort Worth Record says:
"Acton Davies said of George Broadhurst's latest success that it should be seen by all married people and all who expected to be married, thereby making a generalization that pretty nearly includes all of any given population, and he was wrong in no particular.
"Bought and Paid For" is a completely human play, with all the pleasing elements of comedy, sentiment and drama that make of any play an appealing document."

"There are four characters and a Jap.
By means of cleverly arranged scenes, well manipulated situations, carefully concocted lines and excellent acting, there are brought into contrast different attitudes which mean more than differing stations. You have the fine, sweet, ideal attitude of one woman, and her steel determination to remain true to it; the wholeheartedly, unthinking, material instinctive self-preservation attitude of the other woman. You have the rugged, noble, uncompromising, almost ruthless attitude of one man; the selfish, blandly blind and naively egotistic attitude of the other man. And you have the four attitudes leavened into a human whole by patience, by mutual understanding, and by love. For there are no warring personalities in "Bought and Paid For," just attitudes that are antagonistic.
And if you tire of gazing on the wholly subjective struggle of the one man and woman, weary of their soul conflicts and clashing ideals, you may turn to the wholly material and decidedly human struggles of the other pair and squirm uncomfortably because ten to one you are able to sympathize with them far more easily than with the others."

Seeks Federal Aid to Roads.
Washington, Jan. 29.—Senator Jackson of Maryland today introduced a bill proposing a plan of federal cooperation with the states for highway improvement. The bill would authorize the government to pay one-half of the cost of improving highways used by mail carriers, and would appropriate $10,000,000 annually for the work.

Kato Japanese Foreign Minister.
Tokio, Jan. 29.—Baron Kato, hitherto Japanese ambassador to Great Britain, today was officially nominated Japanese foreign minister in the cabinet, under the premiership of Prince Taro Katsura.

management and histrionic talent of the players, but it is a credit to the people of Houston.

"The people of Houston appreciate drama of the highest sort. The audiences that greeted Mantell, Forbes-Robertson, William Faversham, Maude Adams and other famous players in famous plays have made this plain in the past. And now the record run of "Everywoman" should encourage the theatrical powers that be to give us of their best.

"In times past church and stage used to be allies. That happy condition should again prevail. The Christian church once used the drama as the handmaid of religion, which all art ought to be. The Athenians thought so highly of their plays that the state gave free tickets to the poor, that all citizens might attend and come under the spell of the influence for good.
In our time many plays of the highest moral worth and of excellent artistic quality are produced, like "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," "A Messenger From Mars," "The Servant in the House" and "Everywoman." It is gratifying to note that Houston is doing its part in encouraging the elevation of the drama."

"Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway."
George M. Cohan's latest piece,
"Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway," with Bert Leach in the leading part, is to be presented at the Auditorium Monday, matinee and night, by Lat-more & Leigh.

He has provided an entertainment that would succeed along either of two lines, and as a result scores unusual success along both. His play might be considered by itself for there is a real plot that is acted for all there is in it by a company of real actors and actresses, and in addition there are enough song hits to entice the piece to recognition on the score alone, and make the fame of a mediocre musical comedy. In this case the songs have been subordinated to the drama and both gain in strength thereby. It is filled with delicious comedy moments.

"Officer 664."
"Officer 664," with its sprightly cast and rollicking fun, comes to the Auditorium theatre Wednesday evening, February 5.

Its constant good humor and never flagging interest makes it most pain-able to those who visit the theatre to be amused. Mr. MacHugh's characters are well known, particularly that of the gentlemanly rogue, Wilson, which he patterned after Adam Worth to some extent, the thief who stole the "Duchess of Devonshire," a famous painting by Gainsborough. George Howell, who is playing the part, makes a versatile rascal, equally at home among the elect of society and common thieves. The play has become immensely popular and will no doubt enjoy continued favor.

jutor of the diocese of Vermont. The complete ritualistic ceremony of the church was carried out in the conse-

A Testimonial In Rhyme

O, Mr. Ad Man, did you ever advertise?

If you never did, let us put you wise.

Just try it in The Waco Morning News today—

Then stand outside your office and watch them come your way.

We tried it in The Waco Morning News—a 35-cent space. Ah, no, you'll never believe it, but in our office not a space was left for standing room, in answer to that "ad."

And the good and happy fellows made us very glad.

For we were wanting men, such as your paper brought.

But for the price it was the biggest thing we ever bought.

Now, we sit up here and wonder at what twenty words have done.

And we surmise what results had we inserted thirty-ones.

That people read The Waco Morning News we never more will doubt.

And, too, we've learned that men are seeking work and are on the brave lookout.

For not only in this city did we have immediate response, But from East and Southern Texas came replies at once.

So we thank your paper very kindly for results of three days' run.

And in future when we advertise—WELL HAND YOU—

ONE!

lionaire, as it turned out—to lichen. But he got his revenge. Later on in the afternoon, he approached a group of men, with a roll of small bills in his hand.

"Has anybody here," he asked, "got $10?"

The western joker promptly produced a $10 note and handed it to Blank. Blank thanked him, thrust the note in his pocket and turned away.

"Look here," said the westerner, "What did you want that bill for?"

"What did I want it for?" asked Blank, blandly. "Why, for treating your stomach, of course. It's my usual fee."

Prevention Rather Than Cure.

Preventive medicine, said President Emeritus Charles W. Elliot, of Harvard University, in a recent public lecture, is capable in the future of doing away with poverty and misery, of remedying industrial disputes and of contributing to the cause of international peace. The medical practitioner of the future, he declared, would be one who prevented disease rather than cured it. More than half the physicians of the country, he believed, eventually would be engaged in preventive rather than curative medicine. He referred to the Chinese people, who have been through every form of misery which a despotism, ravaging diseases and destructive floods can bring to man kind. As a result there has been strife and rebellion. They took the sword as the only remedy for misery and death. Out of such conditions preventive medicine is capable of lifting them. He also believed that we are going to get through preventive medicine relief from the frictions which arise out of immigration among the leading nations of the world.

COTTON LESS ACTIVE

CLOSE GENERALLY STEADY, 1 TO 3 POINTS HIGHER—DEALS ARE LIGHT.

Renewal of Bear Pressure Turns the Market Easier—Spot Advances Are More Favorable.

New York, Jan. 29.—Cotton market was less active today and fluctuations were correspondingly less important, with the close steady, net 3 points lower on January, but generally 1 to 3 points higher.

The market opened steady at an advance of 1 point to a decline of 2 points and active months soon showed net gains of from 4 to 6 points on covering of shorts and bull support. Favorable overnight spot advances from the south and fairly steady showing of Liverpool probably helped the advance.

The demand, however, was not aggressive and, following rumors from London that Balkan peace negotiations had been broken off, the market turned easier under a renewal of bear pressure and profit taking by some of yesterday's buyers. A few stop orders were uncovered on the decline, which carried prices about six to 8 points under yesterday's closing figures, but after their execution the market turned steadier.

Reports of an increasingly active trade at Fall River and of a very strong position in the market for the heavier weight cotton goods seemed to stimulate the demand later and the market rallied to a shade over the first figure of yesterday in the late trading, when there was active buying by Wall street and other local shorts.

Last prices were within 2 or 3 points of the best. Memphis was credited with selling rather freely at times here during the day and spot advances from that section were rather unfavorable.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, Jan. 29.—Cotton futures opened steady at a decline of 1 to 3 points on indifferent cables and a good weather map. The market had little selling power, offerings coming from shorts only in a scattered way, while the demand was moderately active.

At the end of the first half hour of business prices were 5 to 6 points over yesterday's close. The forecast was for good weather over the belt, but selling on weather returns was restricted because of reports from many sections of somewhat better ground was too wet to plow.

During the morning many disturbing rumors concerning the politics of Europe were circulated and they worked against prices, causing liquidation among longer and short selling among bears. The market sagged until the most active months were 5 to 7 points under the last quotations of yesterday. Later in the morning the market became very dull and at noon prices were 2 to 3 points under the closing level of yesterday.

In the afternoon some improvement in the demand was in evidence and at 2 o'clock prices were 2 to 4 points over yesterday's final figures.

WHEAT IS NOT STEADY

CORN GETS STRENGTH BEFORE CLOSE AND OATS MAKE GAIN.

Provisions Start Downward—Argentine News Again Holds Center of Stage During Session.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Wheat and corn alternated in helping each other today but the latter was the stronger at the close. Oats gained slightly, while provisions declined. Wheat dipped early on easy cables, but shorts ran the price up later under a variety of influences. The northwest reported trade light; the visible supply decreased, although less than for the corresponding week a year ago; primary receipts were under the average of the previous week and a foreign authority issued a bullish statement of probable European requirements, remarking that Russia and Roumania give slight hope of increasing their shipments before spring.

The closing strength in corn was an added bullish factor. Appearance of wheat and four equaled 960,000 bushels while primary receipts of wheat were 921,000 against 518,000 a year ago. The seaboard reported fifteen cargoes sold abroad and a Winnipeg report, without details, had it that 300,000 bushels had been sold to Japan.

Argentine news again held the center of the stage in the consideration of the corn trade. An influential house made public a cablegram stating that the Argentine drought and heat came too late to injure the crop materially. Any great damage must have been done not later than mid-December, when the maize was in tassel, said this authority.

However, Buenos Ayres advanced an extreme 2 cents yesterday and held on to it today and the local market inclined to the belief that late seeded corn in Argentina had suffered visible damage. The wheat strength in mid-session helped corn here, but later took the leadership itself. Primary receipts were 200,000 bushels under those of a year ago. Important shorts were the best buyers and the close was within a shade of the top.

Oats were dull, May closing 1/2c up, with corn. Spot advanced 1/4c in the sample market.

Provisions opened easy, but advanced early on buying by commission houses, of which grain houses did the most. Prices eased off toward the close on selling to packers.

SCHOOL BOARD IN PUBLIC ANSWER

MAKES STATEMENT IN REGARD TO DEMAND OF PEOPLE FOR PUBLICITY.

RECORD IS KEPT COMPLETE

Any One Who Desires Can Call on the Secretary and Find Out What Is Done.

Responding to the demand for publicity in school affairs, the public school board of Waco has issued the following signed statement:

"The trustees of the public schools of the city of Waco have never withheld, and no not withhold from the public, the knowledge of its proceedings. Complete records of all official acts of the board have been kept since its organization, and these records have always been open, and are now open to the inspection of all who wish to see.

"There have been many executive sessions, but never has any effort been made to keep the people in ignorance of what was done. Periodical statements, as the law requires, have been submitted to the proper authorities and these statements are now on file at the county court house in the office of their official custodian. Annual audits of the treasurer's accounts have been made, as the law directs, and private accountants have been employed to verify these accounts.

"Harmony and good feeling have always existed between the members of the board, and the schools have been kept out of politics.

"To rectify what the board has accomplished in the eighteen years of its existence would be superfluous. Object lessons and material results abound in all directions, and speak for themselves. No self-serving motive has ever influenced individual or collective action, but only loyalty to the schools and desire to promote their best interests. Credit for what has been well done and responsibility for all that has been done fall justly and equally upon all alike.

"JOHN C. WEST, President.
"W. B. BRAZELTON,
"W. B. MORRISON,
"R. H. AYNEWORTH,
"W. E. DARDEN,
"S. H. SMITH,

Jan. 29, 1913. "Trustees."
In October last, The Morning News representative attended a meeting of the school board, held at the high school, and was asked to retire. Superintendent Lattimore brought the question up by submitting to the board a signed statement objecting to the presence of any person not having official connection with the board; the board stated to the representative of The Morning News that the board had held closed sessions and that it would continue to do so.

After every meeting of the school board a reporter calls on Secretary Lattimore of the board and gets from him such proceedings as he chooses to give out.
In the school boards of all Texas cities the meetings are public. The representatives of the local newspapers in every Texas city attend the meetings and advise the people of the discussion that is had. The people know the charges that are proposed in the schools because the newspapers publish the discussion. In Waco no information comes from the school board until the final action is taken and when this is done the people must accept the decision without opportunity to protest.

In all the public schools of Texas there is published every year a pamphlet showing the work of the schools. Such a pamphlet was published when J. N. Gallagher was supervisor of the schools here, and it is available in other cities. Superintendent Lattimore has been asked for such a publication, but it is not to be had.

In the above statement the people of Waco are advised that they can get all information regarding the schools if they will look over the minutes and will go to the office of the county clerk.

In the meantime, the meetings of the school board are closed to the representatives of the press.

ON A CHARGE OF BURGLARY.

Negro is Arrested Near Golinda By Deputy Sheriff.

Charged with burglary, John Bibas, a negro, was placed under arrest in his own house four miles from Golinda by Deputy Sheriff J. J. Roberts and was placed in the county jail here at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. Some months ago a house near Golinda was robbed at night and two revolvers were stolen. Bibas is alleged to have swopped one of the revolvers, later identified, with the merchant at Golinda Tuesday for a double-barrel shotgun.

Deputy Sheriff Roberts entered the house without warning and covered the negro with his pistol before he had realized what had taken place.

Charged with aggravated assault and battery, in that he struck another negro over the head three times with a piece of gas pipe, inflicting a dent, Tom Shields was placed under arrest yesterday and lodged in the county jail pending a preliminary hearing of his case. The information was lodged with Assistant County Attorney J. Howell Taylor and filed in the county court. The difficulty occurred at 711 South Eleventh street.

BUILDING IN WACO

FIFTY-FOUR BUILDING PERMITS ARE ISSUED IN EIGHTEEN DAYS.

Demand for Residences—Hotel Building Is to be Erected on South Eighth.

Waco is fast forging to the front in building. There are very few unemployed carpenters in the city and more residential building is going on right now than ever in the history of the city. The building permits issued during the past three weeks will verify this statement.

On January 11 the city decided to give away building permits and not levy a charge according to the cost of the proposed building. Since that period fifty-four permits have been issued, which is an average of three permits a day. In nearly every instance a permit has been issued to build a residence home.

The condition as existed some weeks ago when the Katy employees were ordered to Waco and found it almost impossible to secure a suitable house in which to live, still exists. There is a steady demand for houses. Those to a car line and equipped with modern improvements. The scarcity of rent houses has sent the rent to a figure that makes it a hardship on the average working man.

The real estate men and the town investors are trying hard to overcome this condition and supply sufficient houses for all demands. This is evidenced by the permits issued daily.

The city tax assessor and collector yesterday issued the following building permits:

M. F. Mack, to build a six-room house at Seventeenth and Mitchell streets, estimated cost $1700.

L. W. Barnard, to build an eight-room, two-story house on South Third street, estimated cost $2700, and to remodel his dwelling at 930 South Third street, estimated cost $1350.

Mary Valentine, to build a four-room house at 621 South Seventh street, estimated cost $225.

W. L. Dugger, to build a six-room house at Fifth and Sedgwick streets, estimated cost $2200.

J. E. Harrington, to build an addition to his residence at Eleventh and Burnett streets, estimated cost $100.

S. A. Soule, to build a five-room house on South Ninth street, estimated cost $1000.

R. M. Goodman will erect a modern fireproof hotel at Eighth street between Mary and Jackson, under the name of Hotel Brazos. The building is to be 65x100 feet, three stories and of reinforced concrete. Plans are now being made by Edward H. Reed, architect. The hotel will contain fifty-five rooms and Mrs. R. F. Schickelstein will have the management. Ground will be broken soon.

METHODISTS TO RAISE FUNDS

Campaign Will Be Launched in Waco by Meetings During March.

At the meeting of the district commissioners of the Central Texas conference, Methodist Episcopal church, South held here yesterday, March 23, was the date set for formally launching the campaign for final subscriptions to the fund for $2,000,000 being raised for the Methodist university to be located at Dallas.

At that time, aside from the Rev. A. D. Porter of Waco, who is a member of the commission, Dr. H. A. Boaz and Rev. J. T. Young will visit Waco, filling separate pulpits in the city on that date. The work in Waco will be concluded with a banquet on Monday and on Tuesday the commissioners will leave for work in other cities in this district.

The sense of the meeting yesterday was that the necessary money for the establishment of the great university will be on hand by April 30, and the work of erecting the handsome buildings contemplated will be rushed forward.

The following were present at the meeting held here yesterday:

Dr. H. A. Boaz, Dallas, vice president, who presided; Reverends J. T. Young, Dallas; S. J. Rucker, Fort Worth; K. T. Barton, Cisco; L. Webb, Hubbard City; W. J. Hearon, Grandview; D. C. Hightower, Killeen; M. S. Hotchkiss, Mineral Wells; G. J. Bryan, Groesbeck; A. D. Porter, Waco; J. W. Downs, Ennis. Visitors were Reverends W. B. Wilson, Meridian; S. J. Vaughan, Gatesville; H. D. Knickerbocker, Waco; M. K. Little, Dublin, and W. H. Vaughan.

Deaths and Burials

W. H. H. Little.
The long career of W. H. H. Little, aged 71 years, ended at his home, 426 Turner street, at 10:15 o'clock yesterday. He leaves a wife and eight grown children. Brief funeral services were held from the residence at 5 o'clock yesterday and the remains sent to Mart last night. Burial will be made there at 2 o'clock today. Rev. P. H. Faulk officiated at the services.

John Jackson.
John Jackson, aged about 45 years, a native of Waco, died at San Antonio yesterday morning. The body will reach here this afternoon on the Katy, and the funeral will take place from the M. K. & T. station at 4 o'clock. Rev. Ashley Chapelle of the Fifth Street Methodist church officiating. The deceased was the son of the late W. D. Jackson, long a citizen of Waco, and for many years one of the most influential members of the Methodist church in Waco.

TRAVEL TO INCREASE

WHEN GIANTS AND BROWNS GET HERE THINGS WILL BE LIVELY.

Waco Will Go to Marlin and Marlin Will Come Here—May Need Another Motor.

When the baseball season opens, which will be about February 25, the date the recruits for the New York Giants and for the St. Louis Americans will converge in Marlin and Waco, respectively, for the spring practice, there will be considerable passenger traffic between Waco and Marlin. The hotel proprietors of Marlin figure on the Giants increasing the population of the city about 3,000 during the six weeks they will be at the hot water resort. In view of this heavy traffic the "live wires" in Waco are trying to prevail on the Houston & Texas Central passenger officials to put both motor cars in service, one to operate as a special each day.

The Houston & Texas Central railway company has two motor cars that may be used to further the motor car service between Waco and intermediate points to Marlin and Brenham. One of the cars is at the general Texas shops at Houston now undergoing repairs. There is a strong likelihood that it will be sent back to Waco to relieve the other car in the event it should be disabled.

The railroad company is anxious to accommodate the traveling public, as evidenced by the installation of the motor car service, and if the request of the people is justified it is not going too far to say the passenger department of the Houston & Texas Central will consider the matter.

It is conceded that many Wacoans will journey to Marlin to see the Giants while they are training, and it is equally true that many people who will flock to Marlin will come to Waco for the shows and other entertainments if the railroad service is so arranged that it will be practicable.

Local News Notes

Information lodged with Sheriff S. S. Fleming Tuesday resulted in the capture late Tuesday evening of J. O. Marbury by Deputy Sheriff Chas. Beckham at Mart, on charge of swindling. Deputy Sheriff J. M. Morgan brought the man to Waco yesterday afternoon. The complaint against Marbury was made through the Judge Company of Dallas. He will be given a preliminary hearing here late this week or the first of next.

A verdict for the plaintiff of $1,000 was returned by the jury in the case of the Waco Cement and Stone company against Nelson Smith in the Nineteenth district court yesterday morning.

Joe Gregory, charged with theft from the person, was held to the grand jury by Justice J. J. Padgett yesterday afternoon. Bond was fixed at $500.

Added to the already fine collection of weather and temperature gauges, Dr. I. Block yesterday received a pocket aneroid barometer. The instrument especially was made for the owner by Short & Mason of London. On the dial appears the signature of the owner and it was delivered enclosed in a well-arranged leather case.

Carrying a binder over one arm and his hat under the other, William Vaughn, negro, entered the police station last night in the care of Sergeant Buchanan and Policeman Harbison. He was arrested at East Waco and is being detained on a charge of larceny. The police made a fast run to the east end of Elm street, thinking the report that came to the station to the effect that one negro had killed another one was true. When they arrived they found that Vaughn's wife left the house when Vaughn entered the front yard. She told the officers she believed her husband would do violence to her.

When two negroes rode into Kosse, Limestone county, late yesterday afternoon, they were detained by Constable Lober and held for Sheriff Fleming. The blacks are accused of the theft of a horse and buggy from the city square, January 18. The horse belonged to R. E. Payne of Waco. A long distance telephone message to the sheriff last night reported the recovery of the property and the arrest of the negroes. Sheriff Fleming will send a deputy to Kosse to get the negroes.

Hitched to an open buggy, a runaway horse dodged automobiles, buggies, other vehicles and conveyances and caused pedestrians to hug the sidewalk from near Eighth and Speight streets to the city hall square. The frightened horse ran north on Eighth street to Austin and selected the middle of the main thoroughfare to the city hall. The horse became unmanageable about 9 o'clock when the streets were filled with homebound good citizens. It belonged to Sam Goodram, a city hall employee. The horse was south of the city hall delayed the progress of the frightened horse and resulted in demolishing one of the buggy wheels.

Night Chief of Police J. W. Prater was not at his accustomed place at the city hall last night. Instead, he was at home, ill with a severe cold.

Dr. A. J. Barton returned yesterday from a conference of Southern Baptists held at Nashville, Tenn. While away he made one prohibition speech.

NEW FIRE STATION IS READY TO INVITE SELLS TO WACO POLL TAX PAYMENTS

Building Is Finished and Awaits the Approval of Fire Chief Prescott.

The seventh sub-fire station in Waco has been completed. The contractor placed the last piece of tile roofing yesterday and announced the building was ready for approval of the fire chief. It is located at Fifteenth street and Herring avenue. It has been under construction for several months and was delayed for many weeks awaiting the shipment of the roofing.

Fire Chief A. M. Prescott has named the hall the "Model Fire Station of Waco." It is located on a corner lot, back about thirty feet from the street. The plan of the building is a good deal like that of any other fire station, there being space in the back to amply accommodate two teams of horses. The second floor is fitted up with a living room and baths and lavatories. Immediately adjoining the station on the west is a frame residence house that will be occupied by the captain of the station.

The residents of that section of the city will be very grateful to get better fire protection. No station is located near the center of the north-west part of the city, which is building faster than any other part.

HIGH SCHOOL BASKET BALL

Yale Will Meet Cornell and Harvard Will Tie Into Princeton This Evening.

Divided into four teams, the race in the high school league in basket ball at the Young Men's Christian association is waxing interesting. Three of the teams now being tied for first place and the next game scheduled for 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, when "Yale" will meet "Cornell" and "Harvard" will tie into "Princeton." Cornell is now at the foot of the list with a percentage of .750, Harvard, Yale and Princeton having each a percentage of .750.

The personnel of the teams is as follows: Harvard—John Mayfield, captain; P. Taylor, Ross Hicks, H. James, Wilbur Knebel, P. Knickerbocker, M. Ligon and C. Edens.

Princeton—Cop Weathers, captain; Ben Kelley, Lee Parrow, D. Levens, Louis Weibusch, Ben Lee Boynton and B. Burnett.

Yale—D. Greenberg, captain; Leon Friedlander, Walter Parsons, Issy Fred, N. Burnett and Van Pylant.

Cornell—Hudman Taylor, captain; O. J. Johnson, R. Abel, Manuel Goldberg, R. Genevov, Dick Torrence and C. Studer.

The games this afternoon, which will begin at 4:30 o'clock, are expected to be lively, judging by the heated contests which preceded them.

In the Sunday school league, the First Baptist team will play the Central Presbyterians at 7:30 o'clock on Friday evening. This league is showing up well, as evidenced by the lively scrimmage Tuesday night between the Morrow street Methodist and the Elm street Methodist boys.

Would Tax American Exports.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Representative Humphrey of Washington wants to tax American goods when they are exported, as well as taxing imports. With this object in view, he introduced a bill today as an amendment to the Payne-Aldrich tariff act, which would provide for the levying of a tax on all exports, the tax to be the same as that on similar imported articles.

Rumor Is That He Is to Leave Cleburne and Waco Wants Him as Citizen.

Cato Sells is to be invited to move to Waco. There is an impression among some of the citizens of Waco that Mr. Sells may leave Cleburne. He is a member of the democratic national committee from Texas, is the man who was at the head of the Wilson movement in this state, is a banker and a land owner. He came to Texas from Iowa, and from the beginning when he became a citizen here he has been one of the active and energetic men of the state. Whether he expects to leave Cleburne or not is a matter of conjecture. It has been rumored that he will leave there and that he will locate in some other city in Texas, and he will be invited to come to Waco.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for city commissioner, subject to city primaries to be held February 25. T. B. BARTON. (adv.) not to enlist workmen of this class.

"SLEEPY" FOUND IN BILL.

Senate Recalls Measure from White House Table.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Several persons sentenced to be hanged in the District of Columbia would have escaped death had President Taft signed the bill recently passed by the senate and house substituting electrocution for hanging as a method of capital punishment in the district.

The senate, discovering that the new law, which was to have become effective immediately, abolished the penalty, today in a joint resolution recalled the bill from the White House, where it awaited the president's signature.
